WELCOME

From the PUBLISHER OF CITY GUIDE

Welcome to New York, the city that never sleeps.

You have arrived at the United States' epicenter of culture, attractions, theater, dining, and more. When you wander through the neighborhoods, you'll discover historical sites, architecture, parks, specialty shops, epicurean delights, and other memory makers. Whatever your pleasure, a jam-packed few days or a leisurely visit, City Guide will make navigating your stay easier—after all, we've been helping visitors make the most of the Big Apple for 40 years. In these pages you can discover iconic NYC destinations, Broadway shows, restaurant and nightlife options, and many activities that will delight, educate, and entertain you. If you're looking for more information visit cityguideny.com to find thousands of "fun to sees."

NYC is back and stronger than ever, with new shopping destinations, five observatories, boats, buses, over 100 theaters, some of the world's finest museums, and many great pop-up venues. Have a great time and welcome to our city.

Yours sincerely,

David L. Miller

From the MAYOR OF NEW YORK

As mayor of New York City, I am thrilled to join City Guide in welcoming you to this amazing city. Since 1982, City Guide has been the premier publication for visitors planning a trip to the Big Apple.

The tourism industry this past year has looked very different than in previous years. The COVID-19 pandemic slowed tourism virtually to a halt, leaving a significant impact on the $72 billion industry and the 400,000 jobs it supports. Annual visitors to our city dropped from a record high of 66.6 million in 2019 to 22.3 million in 2020. As our city embarks on the path to recovery, bringing the tourism sector back better than ever is one of my top priorities.

How do we attract visitors back to our city? By reminding them of all New York City's unique treasures. From our lush parks to our world-class cultural institutions, our diverse cuisine to our one-of-a-kind shopping, our historic architecture to our vibrant nightlife, this city has something to offer for everyone, in every borough. No matter where you go, I'm confident you'll have a memorable experience – and we can't wait to welcome you back with open arms.

Yours sincerely,

Eric Adams

SHOP NEW YORK CITY

For summer shopping (dare we say it's finally warm out?) nothing beats NYC. Its plethora of well-curated boutiques, world-famous department stores, and legendary shopping districts are bursting with merch you "need" and treats to obsess over. Hudson Yards, 57th Street, Madison Avenue, Brookfield Place, Columbus Circle, SoHo, Empire Outlets on Staten Island and just about every other square inch of the city offers unimaginable delights.

—Wendy Tittel

HANDY-NOT-HOKEY :: While Beaux-Arts architecture and iconic lion statues Patience and Fortitude at the New York Public Library get all the looks, you might want to also gawk at the inspired offerings in their gift shop. With Father's Day looming around the corner, snag one of these handy 9-in-1 tool pens for the dad in your life. It sports a Soft-Roll ballpoint at one end and a touch screen stylus at the other. Housed inside are Phillips and flathead screwdrivers, while on the barrel are a built-in level, ruler, and three different scale functions ($30). Stephen A. Schwarzman Building, Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street, shop.nypl.org

DRINK UP :: Are you a bit old fashioned? This glass tumbler in a striking orange shade from the Museum of Arts and Design may be just your speed. Sir Madame created this colorful bespoke collection on a trip to Italy's beloved floating city with heavy design influence from the arches that adorn Venice's iconic bridge ($58). 2 Columbus Circle, thestore.madmuseum.org

POP ART IN THE PARK :: Only an Italian could craft such a marvel and only MoMA is selling it. This season's hottest outdoor accessory is the spaghetti chair, designed in Italy in the 1970s by Francesco Favagrossa and fashioned from forgiving PVC strands that offer maximum comfort and fabulous lounging! This "take me with you" chair will become your greatest outdoor asset, offering six positions and an ultra lightweight aluminum frame for easy transport. Available in six color schemes at the MoMA Design Store, including a B&W version for those less adventurous ($225). 44 W. 53rd St., across from the museum, store.moma.org

SHALL I MANSPLAIN IT TO YOU? :: When a guy's gotta shop, he's gotta shop. And in NYC if you're a sports nut, the voluminous Lids store smack in the middle of Times Square is your Bloomingdale's. Discover official on-field baseball caps of every team and Yankees and Mets jackets in endless fabric choices and colors. From t-shirts and footwear to jerseys of every NFL first-round draft pick, the megastore options here are mind boggling. Support our hood on your head with this New York Knicks New Era retro snapback hat, a true souvenir sympatico for all fans ($31.99). 239 W. 42nd St., lids.com

MAN ON THE MOVE :: Be cooler than the next guy traversing the avenues from Fifth to First in this 1940s repro men's Field Jacket. Crafted from high-count 100% dense cotton poplin and sporting buttons under a wind flap, four front flap pockets, interior pockets, and drawcord at the waist. Simply the perfect jacket for transitioning into New York's unpredictable summer weather and the exact shade to keep your outfit color-clash free ($120). Cockpit USA, 15 W. 39th St., 12th Floor, cockpitusa.com

NO KIDS ALLOWED :: As an avid fan of ice cream that has failed adulting, Tipsy Scoops Barlour has collaborated with JAJA tequila to concoct some boozy treats to celebrate the launch of the summer season. Their limited-edition four pack of tequila-infused ice cream and sorbet flavors are as refreshing as they look: from Watermelon Basil Sorbet infused with JAJA Blanco to creamy, indulgent Churro Dulce de Leche ice cream infused with JAJA Anejo. Something for every tequila lover. Note: this product contains 5% alcohol by volume. Olé! ($56 for the 4-pack). Manhattan location: 217 E. 26th St., tipsyscoop.com

One of the city's great pleasures is exploring its stores—and by extension, its neighborhoods. Here are our picks for must-see, must-shop spots all around NYC.

By Evan Levy

Starting in Lower Manhattan, you won't want to miss the soaring, cathedral-like space that defines the Oculus. The world-class collection of shops here is definitely about time—or it will be, when you peruse the selection of timepieces at Breitling, Tissot, and Longines. You'll also find leather goods by Smythson, the perfect writing implement from Mont Blanc, and a way to indulge your whimsical side with a visit to Toytoise, which offers beautifully designed racecars, rockets, and other toys on the go.

A little ways north is the perennially chic SoHo, which retains its cult status with a focus on the cutting edge (Y3 Concept Store, with clothing by Japanese designer Yohji Yamamoto; the trendy A.P.C, with an emphasis on stylish basics like denim, outerwear, and sweatshirts; and Supreme, known for its collaborations with musicians and designers, including Louis Vuitton). Try Broken English for a mix of new and estate jewelry and peruse Alexander Wang's New York flagship for minimalist fashion mastery.

Upmarket shoppers flock to the Meatpacking District, where women's fashion can be found at Alice + Olivia, perfume at Bond No 9, and men's and women's boutique picks at Marni Meatpacking Market.

Just uptown from there is one of the city's newest shopping—and must see—destinations: Hudson Yards. Beyond the Edge features gifts and collectibles, many of which were created just for Hudson Yards; while Carmen Sol is on a mission to make its eco-conscious “jelly” material a staple with its shoes, bags, and jewelry.

“Find an opportunity or two to treat yourself”

Feeling sporty? Then you’ll want to find your way to the NHL Shop in nearby Manhattan West, where fans can access merchandise from all 32 NHL teams.

Just off Central Park you’ll find The Shops at Columbus Circle, where MAC, Moleskine, Montmartre, and Michael Kors beckon, while newer outposts like Lululemon and the CAMP stores offer ways to work out, and work in some time for creativity.

Fifth and Madison Avenues can’t be missed (they’re classics, after all). Head to the former, arguably New York’s most famous street, for a who’s who of designer fashion. From Bulgari to Cartier, Tiffany to Gucci, the storied street never goes out of fashion—much like its stores. Basketball fans can shop at the newly reopened flagship NBA Store on Fifth Avenue as well. (Soccer fans shouldn’t feel left out—it’s not too far to the Pelé Soccer store on Broadway.) On Madison Avenue, some of the names include Fendi, Giorgio Armani, and Berluti.

Grand Central Terminal is not just one of the city’s most inspiring public spaces, it’s also an excellent place to shop, with great souvenirs from the

New York Transit Museum plus local favorites like Jacques Torres Chocolate and ingredient specialists Spices and Tease.

If outlet shopping is your preference, NYC finally has a destination of its own. Empire Outlets is right on the other side of a Staten Island Ferry ride and full of favorite brands including H&M, Banana Republic Factory, and Nordstrom Rack. On the New Jersey side, The Mills at Jersey Gardens is the Garden State’s largest outlet and value retail center with over 200 stores all under one roof.

No matter what you’re searching for, you can track it down in NYC. Check out these finds, then discover your own. You never know what’s in store.

ONGOING

From ice to wheels: Flipper's Roller Boogie Palace is now offering roller skating at The Rink at Rockefeller Center. It's the first time warm weather skating has been here since 1940. A legendary '70s-'80s rink run by Ian "Flipper" Ross in West Hollywood has been revived in Midtown Manhattan by his daughter Liberty Ross. The space is welcoming and inclusive, providing the chance to show off your moves in a vibrant section of the city that can feel like the center of the universe. The new rink is joined by a major area renovation, with tables, chairs, and green spaces now available in the plaza. Some of the city's best bites are among the grab-and-go options, including JJ Johnson's Harlem-based grain bowl destination Fieldtrip, the halel truck-inspired Samesa, David Chang's fried chicken joint Fuku, and Brooklyn-born Ace's Pizza. Rock Center also boasts fine dining, world-class shopping, famous art and architecture, and the Top of the Rock Observation Deck. Three floors of indoor and outdoor decks provide sweeping, open-air views of the city and beyond.

5.27-29

Friday through Sunday on Memorial Day Weekend, The 27th Annual Lower East Side Festival of the Arts will be bringing a bonanza of programming to downtown. The Theater for the New City hosts a mix of indoor and outdoor performances under the theme "Artists Embrace Liberty And Justice For All." The event is free and brings 200 hundred-some artists and groups for theatre, music, dance, video, cabaret, and film. Vendors and food sellers, including booths from nearby restaurants, can be found on Saturday. In and around 155 First Ave. (btw. 9th & 10th Sts.), 212-254-1109, theaterforthenewcity.net

Every Sunday on the Upper West Side you can check out Grand Bazaar NYC, the city's largest curated market—and most distinctive. This Sunday you'll also find the NYC Home Decor & Accessories Bazaar. Look for locals selling one-of-a-kind pillows and rugs, mirrors and frames, art, and sculpted candles. Come hungry! There are great artisanal food options as well. 10am-5pm. Columbus Ave. & 77th St., 212-239-3025, grandbazaarnyc.org

Get a behind-the-scenes look at the unrestored Ellis Island Immigrant Hospital Complex. This gateway to America for millions of people is accessible again via Statue City Cruises—the only way to access Ellis Island and the Statue of Liberty. Opt for the Hard Hat Tour Ticket and see the other side of history on a 90-minute guided tour of the hidden part of Ellis Island. In addition to a rare look at abandoned places, the ticket includes round-trip ferry service and audio Tours of Liberty and Ellis Islands. The art exhibition “Unframed—Ellis Island,” by renowned French artist JR, is on display throughout the hospital complex. The Hard Hat Tour Ticket allows you priority entry into the Screening Facility Queue to

The legendary Apollo Theater is back open in Harlem, inside an ornate structure that dates to 1914. Live programming has returned, as has the famed Amateur Night at the Apollo, bringing aspiring performers to a big stage in front of a lively crowd. A resident “Executioner” stands by to sweep off talent that doesn’t measure up—after all, at the Apollo it’s “be good or be gone.” The next performance comes up on Wednesday, May 25th and it’s a Quarter Final, bringing together winners of recent Amateur Night shows competing to move on to the Semi Finals. 253 W. 125th St. (btw. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. & Frederick Douglass Blvds.), 212-531-5300, apollotheater.org

Hungarian artist László Moholy-Nagy (1895-1946) was best known as a painter and a Bauhaus leader. He was also a photography pioneer, as seen in the Fotografiska exhibition Light Play. A tightly edited show gathers work ranging from early experiments with photomontage to photograms (images made without a camera), personal travel shots, films, and late-career color photos. The curators worked closely with the artist’s estate to design staging that aligns with Moholy-Nagy’s experimental approach to lighting and form. There’s plenty more to check out inside this New York newcomer that offers a mix of world-class photography, eclectic programming, elevated dining, and surprising new points of view. 281 Park Ave. S. # NYC NIGHTS

From stealth jazz spots to megaclubs, NYC nightlife has it all. What's hot now? Bespoke cocktails are having a moment. Bartenders are getting creative, opening up new fronts in mixology. Downtown, cocktail lounge Nina's x Liquid Lab brings back "the old, new New York." Among the sophisticated drinks here look for a new Bombay Happy Hour, available through July, with refreshments like the Basquiat Bramble, bringing together gin, muddled blackberries, rosemary, and lemon.

Landmark West Village bar Dante has been around since 1915, but its recent revamp has put it at the top of World's Best Bar lists. Among their signature cocktails you'll find the Dante's Manhattan, a diabolical blend of bourbon, rye, vermouths, walnut liqueur, and chocolate bitters.

For an old-school uptown cocktail experience, head to Bemelmans Bar, with its masterpiece murals by Ludwig Bemelmans, the creator of the classic Madeline children's books. (Live piano completes a very atmospheric scene.) For newer thrills in the neighborhood, tucked behind a discreetly marked door you'll find the low-lit cocktail bar NR, which transports guests to an 18th-century Japanese port town.

Brooklyn is joining in on the cocktail renaissance. Williamsburg is the borough's nightlife capital and we'd steer you to Hotel Delmano for a seasonal cocktail menu in an elegant, classic-New York space.

Live music remains a major draw for city nightlife, with Manhattan clubs providing intimate experiences with the world's greatest musicians. For more than 25 years, musical landmark The Iridium has been hosting rock, jazz, blues, and beyond. On Monday, May 23rd look for An Intimate Evening With Ed Palermo, featuring a big band putting unique jazz accents on the music of Frank Zappa, Herbie Hancock, and more. On Saturday, May 28th, catch blues prodigy and singer-songwriter Quinn Sullivan.

The East Village has its own destination for eclectic, compelling music. This week at Drom don't miss the Grammy-winning Spanish Harlem Orchestra, which sets the gold standard for authentic New York-style salsa. Their "Imágenes Latinas" album release concert takes place Friday, May 20th. Saturday and Sunday bring the 5th Mediterranean Jazz Festival, while Thursday, May 26th will give you the choice of flamenco-jazz from New Bojaira as an early show and a later high-octane performance by the New York Gypsy All-Stars.

City Winery New York City at Hudson River Park combines great bites, wine to match, and views to remember. Two stages host a stellar array of music and comedy, including Texas troubadour Lyle Lovett finishing up a residency with his Large Band on Thursday and Friday, May 19th-20th. You'll also find The 10th Annual New York Asian Burlesque Festival on Saturday and on Tuesday, May 24th, a Bob Dylan Birthday Celebration With the Complete Unknowns in addition to New York legend Sandra Bernhard, a pioneer of the one-woman show.

Gotham Comedy Club brings in the hottest comics nightly with touring pros and ensemble nights like The Gotham All-Stars and ComedyJuice. Another comedy legend not to be missed is Carolines on Broadway. This week the Times Square institution brings in kindergarten teacher/comedian Joe "Mr. D" Dom-browski, known for his viral spelling bee prank, May 19th-21st, and actor, comedian, and digital personality Renny, who boasts an army of more than 3 million social followers.

The Upper West Side has a neighborhoody feel. To find a fresh alternative to the mundane here, Ashford & Simpson's Sugar Bar is an intimate restaurant with a great Happy Hour special. Tuesdays through Saturdays 3-7pm at the bar you'll find $5-$7 specials on beer, wine, and cocktails, plus deals on bites like chicken wings, sliders, and nachos.

For a downtown neighborhood experience, The Ear Inn offers plenty of local color in a building that dates to 1770.

On the nightclub front, the city's philosophy remains "more is more." Circus-style performances add to over-the-top experiences, like at Chelsea newcomer Wonderland, which brings live stage acts to an already vibrant mix.

For some culture with your nightlife, look to photography museum Fotografiska. They stay open until 9pm nightly and offers music on every floor and drinks as you explore. Far from a stuffy institution, the attitude here is "Have fun, stay late, get deep, spill your drink."

Come inside for culture

NYC has well over 100 museums with something for everyone, from art to natural history to the story of the city itself.

THE BIG FOUR

The Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) is fresh off a lengthy expansion and renovation project. A must-see for even the most casual art fan, six levels here cover an immense range of contemporary and modern art. Works include prints and illustrated books, architecture, design and drawing, paintings and sculpture, and photography and video installations. World-famous art by Warhol, van Gogh, Monet, Kahlo, and Picasso can all be found, joined by intriguing temporary exhibitions.

The Met Museum displays some of the greatest cultural treasures in the world, representing every category of art from just about every country from every time period spanning the Stone Age to the present. The museum houses some of the finest American art in the world, as well as an impressive collection of European, Greco-Roman, and Ancient Egyptian art. You can lose yourself for hours here; if you need to recharge, The Temple of Dendur somehow manages to be both epic and chill.

The Morgan Library & Museum (above) started out as the private library of financier Pierpont Morgan. Today, the Morgan serves as a museum, research library, musical venue, architectural landmark, and historic site. It's home to an enormous collection of literary and historical works, with Rembrandt, Picasso, Dickens, Hemingway, and Gutenberg Bibles just a sampling of the collection.

The National September 11 Memorial & Museum features two core exhibitions at the foundation of the former World Trade Center complex. A memorial exhibition—In Memoriam—pays tribute to the 2,983 men, women and children killed on 9/11 and in the 1993 WTC bombing. A historical exhibition tells the story of what happened on 9/11 at the three attack sites in the U.S. and around the world. It also explores what led up to the terror strikes, the immediate aftermath, and the ways 9/11 continues to shape our world. On the plaza outside you'll encounter two reflecting pools, featuring North America's largest man-made waterfalls.

The National Museum of the American Indian (NMAI), a branch of the Smithsonian dedicated to Native American cultures throughout the Americas, stands near the southern tip of Manhattan. On display now is Dakota Modern: The Art of Oscar Howe, which highlights the work of Oscar Howe (1915–1983), one of the 20th century's most innovative Native American painters. The museum is housed in the landmark Beaux Arts U.S. Custom House, completed in 1907.

Head to the historic boiler room of Chelsea Market to experience the immersive art space ARTECHOUSE. You've never seen art like this before, as room-sized digital projections merge with sound design to create a cinematic experience. Now on view is Life of a Neuron, which draws on decades of neuroscience research to create a cellular-level journey through the human brain.

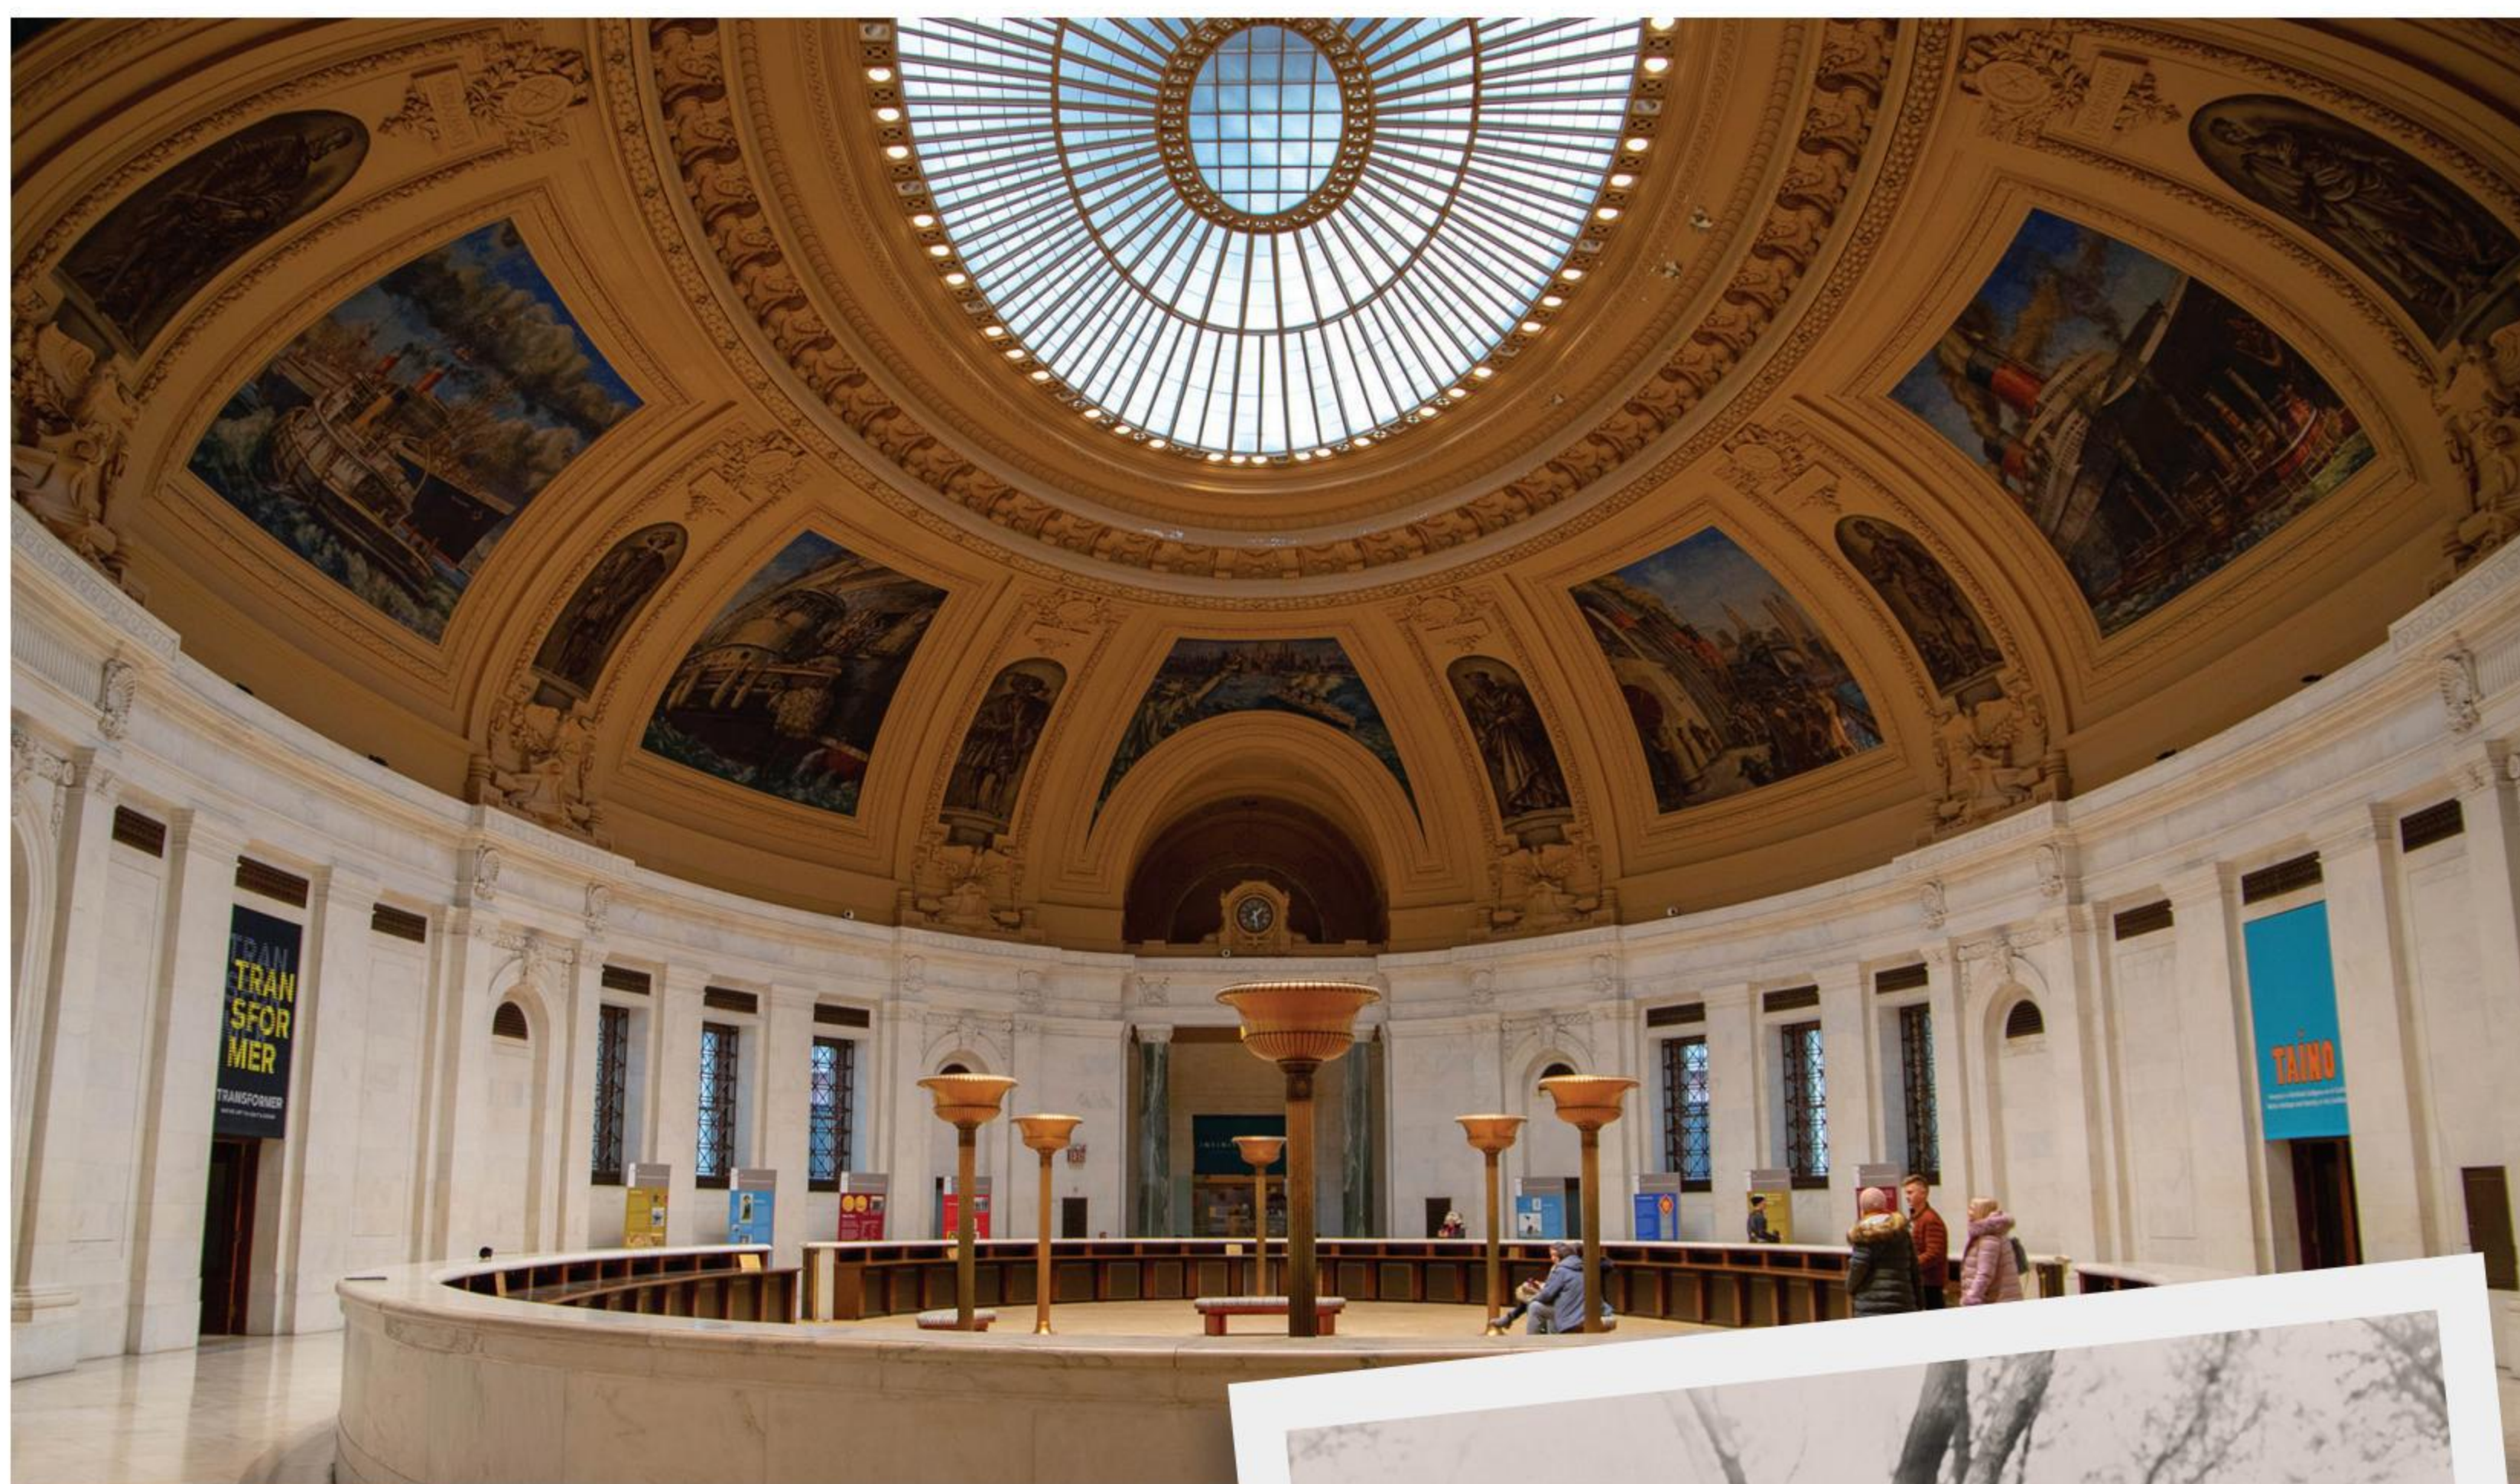

Holding down a large patch of land just off Central Park West, the American Museum of Natural History was founded in 1869 and still carries on its mission of discovering and interpreting the natural world. Families love exploring the acres of exhibits here, in addition to the futuristic sphere of The Hayden Planetarium. One of the most popular destinations in the museum is the fourth floor, where you'll find 100 dinosaur specimens, a small sample of the largest collection of dinosaur fossils in the world.

The Guggenheim Museum is Frank Lloyd Wright's masterpiece of modern architecture. Completed in 1959 (after 16 years of construction), the museum is home to one of the world's finest collections of modern and contemporary art, including works by artists such as Kandinsky, Picasso, and Pollock, plus intriguing special exhibitions. The building itself belongs in a museum—one of the world's most famous structures, spiraling upward in sinuous curves.

The AKC Museum of the Dog was founded by the American Kennel Club in 1982. After a few decades away, it's now back in New York City and better than ever, with new exhibits, interactive displays, and a deep catalogue of dog-related art. New show Dogs of War & Peace features 10 life-sized, carved-wood allegorical memorials by sculptor James Mellick on display from his "Wounded Warrior Dogs" and "Over the Rainbow Bridge" collections.

On the Upper West Side, the New-York Historical Society offers four centuries of history and art, plus the only Children's History Museum in the area. Don't miss the transformed fourth floor, with its detailed re-creation of the White House Oval Office and the Gallery of Tiffany Lamps shows 100 illuminated examples within a dramatically lit, jewel-like space.

Across town, the Museum of the City of New York explores the city's past, celebrates its present, and imagines its future. The engaging exhibitions here offer insight into the city's distinctive character, especially its heritage of diversity, opportunity, and perpetual transformation.

Brooklyn has become a tourist destination to rival Manhattan, complete with its own world-class institution: the Brooklyn Museum. Just 20 minutes from Manhattan you'll find a priceless collection that will surprise you with its range, from ancient Egypt to European masterpieces to a feast of decorative art.

Fotografiska New York is a museum experience for the modern world. It's a destination to discover world-class photography, eclectic programming, and surprising new perspectives. It's open late every day, with a vibrant atmosphere unlike any other in the city. There's music on every floor and drinks for guests to enjoy throughout the museum. The philosophy here is "Have fun. Stay late. Get deep. Spill your drink."

Immerse Yourself in the World's Greatest Views

New York is a vertical city and there's never been a better time to experience it. The past few months have brought on two new observatory options, joining three legends already here, not to mention the skyline-showcasing rides on our buses and boats.

For immersion in the art deco glory of Manhattan, Rockefeller Center's Top of the Rock is your destination. There are both outdoor and indoor viewing areas here—the latter nice and cozy for colder days. Outside, transparent safety-glass panels allow wholly unobstructed views of the city's landmarks, including all of Central Park (its size can only truly be appreciated when seen from above). The 70th Floor is the proverbial cherry on top, allowing visitors 360° panoramas of Manhattan in all its glory. It provides a vantage point unlike any other in the city...or the world.

See the Empire State Building for yourself and you'll know immediately why the skyscraper has been named one of the Seven Wonders of the Modern World. Recent additions have made visits here better than ever. The new Observatory Entrance begins the adventure, leading up to the Observatory Experience. This new exhibition space is loaded with Instagram-ready displays that show visitors the building through the years and how the structure is used today. Those looking for the ultimate Empire State Building visit can opt for 102nd floor tickets, which lead to a fully enclosed space with views in all directions—on a clear day, you can see five states!

For a downtown take on altitude, look to One World Observatory. It's the tallest building in the hemisphere, and with over 40,000 metric tons of steel and a unique concrete core, it's the strongest building in the world. After a minute's ride and a short video, you'll hit the Discovery Level (the main observatory), with 360° sights of the city and beyond. It's all here, from the rivers to the harbor, from the Empire State Building to the Statue of Liberty, and on out to New Jersey's ports and skylines.

The Western Hemisphere's highest outdoor observation deck, Edge, stands atop the city's newest neighborhood, Hudson Yards. Step out onto the triangular deck and you'll be 100 floors above the ground with miles of visibility in every direction. Edge will also thrill you with its glass floor, providing views of the High Line far below your feet. A champagne bar lets you toast the city, in addition to the dining at restaurant and lounge Peak.

Across town near Grand Central, SUMMIT One Vanderbilt takes the concept of an “observation deck” to new heights through 3 levels of multi-sensory interactions.

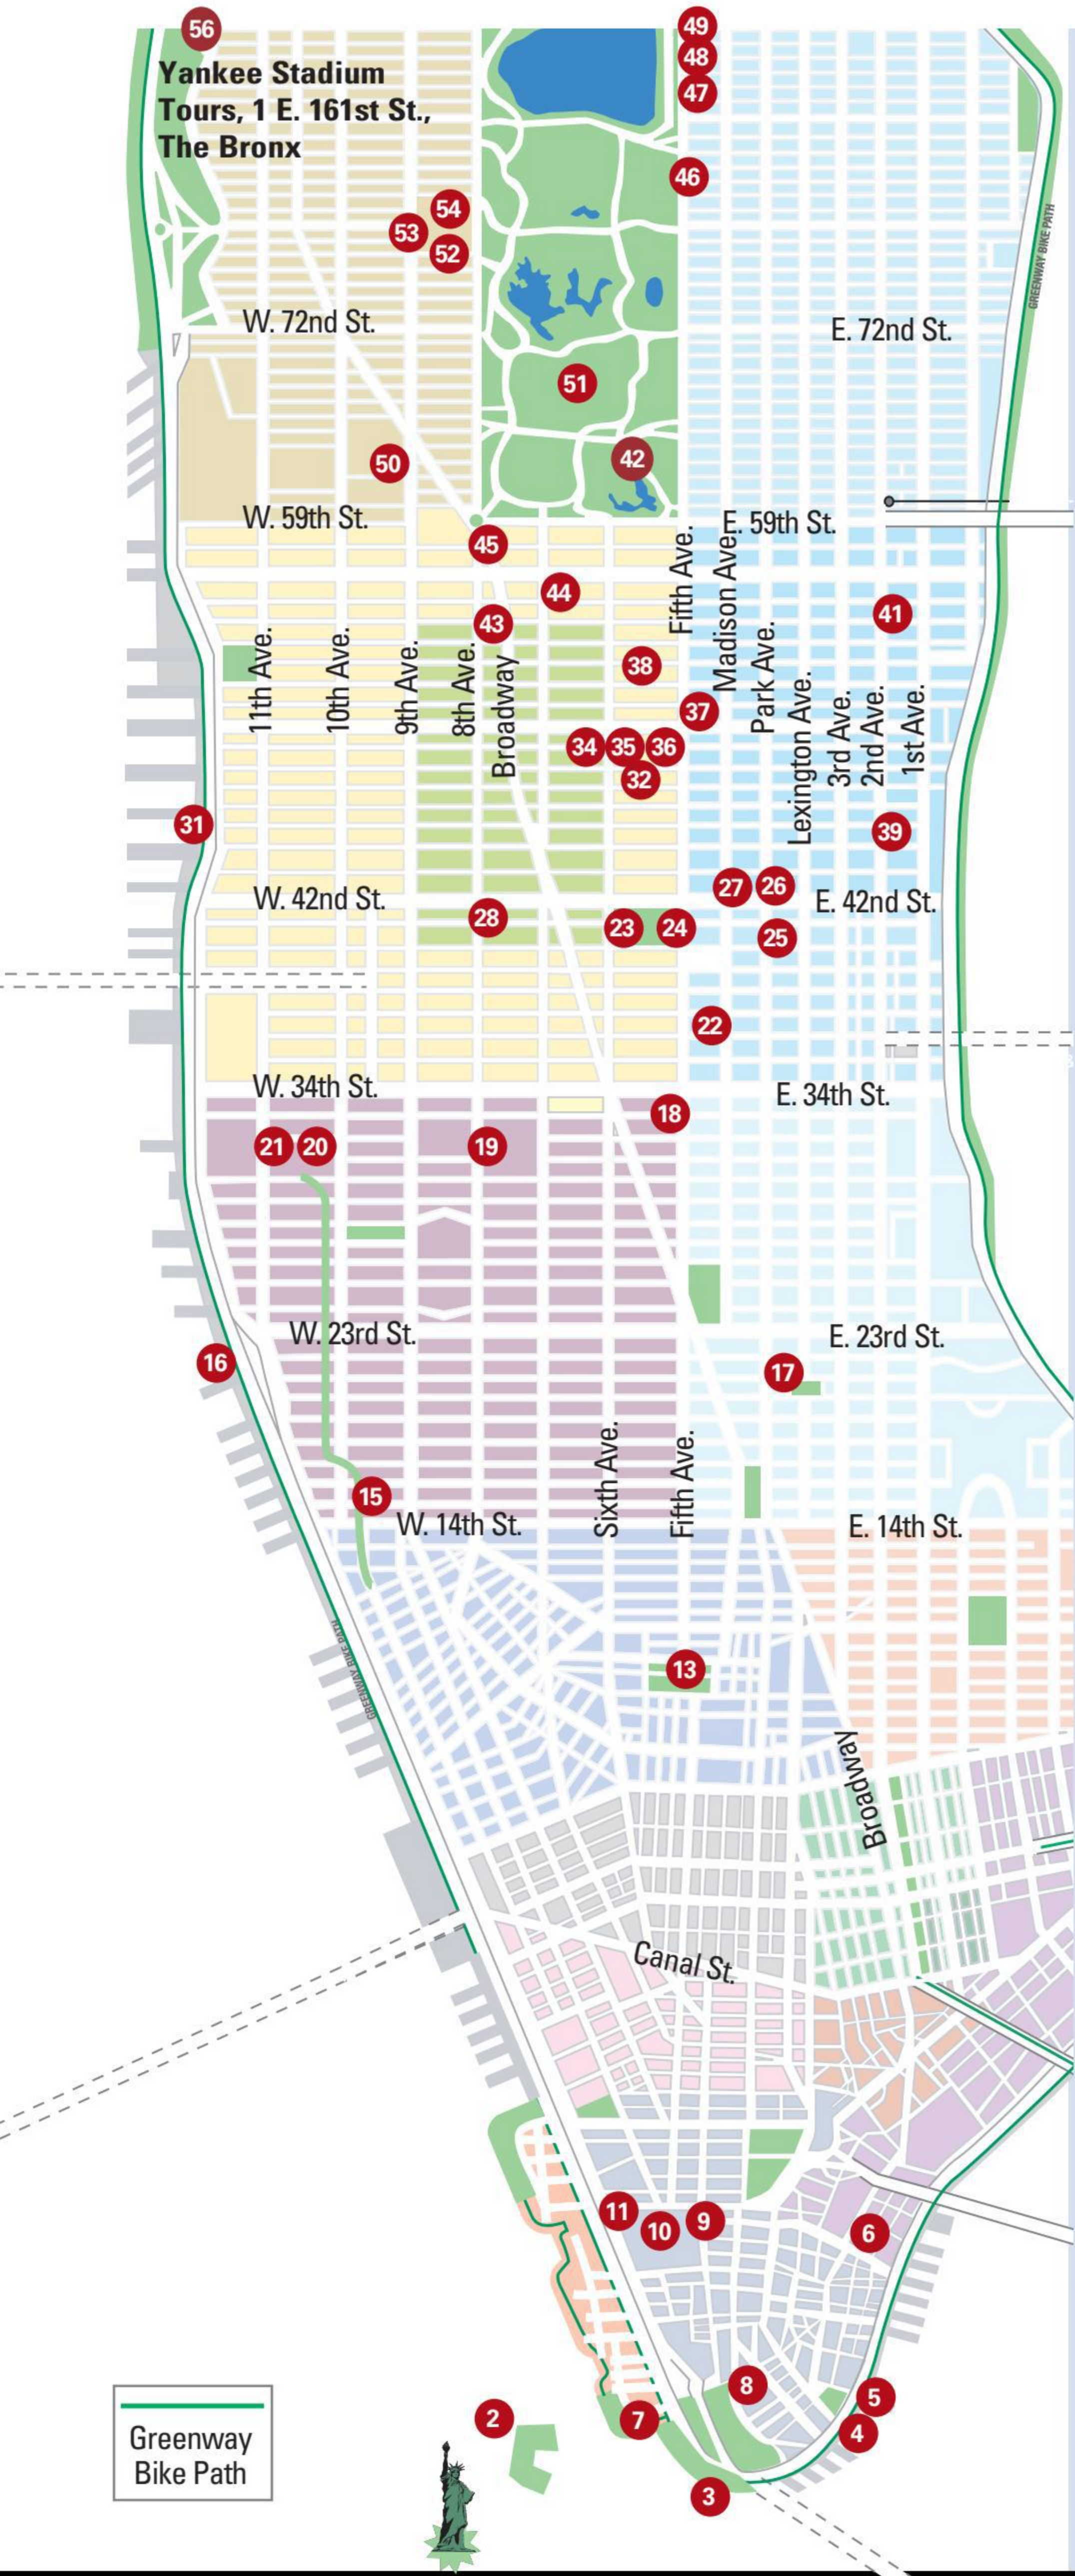

When you want to pose “in a moment in time” with the world's most iconic musicians, leaders, sports legends, and A-list stars, Madame Tussauds in Times Square is your destination. In addition to being “the world's

ON BROADWAY

Broadway Your Way: A Visitor's Guide

With the arrival of t-shirt and shorts weather, New York is awesome personified, and this is especially evident on Broadway where—in the span of just 11 blocks—the number of shows playing at one time outshines any other theatrical stretch on the planet. As a bonus, Tony nominations, awards, and celebs are currently front and center, so show time is officially prime time for Big Apple Broadway!

THE CLASS OF 2022

The new show count for the season leading up to this year's Tony Awards has been impressive and, in the category of musicals, eclectic. A concert format (along with some awesome contemporary costumery) brings the wives of Henry VIII to vivid, anachronistic life in SIX—a mega-hot ticket and deservedly so.

Nostalgia your thing? Opt for the highly anticipated first revival of Funny Girl and/or Hugh Jackman's return to Broadway in The Music Man. Want to step back in time to the 1800s? Paradise Square offers a look at life against an unconventional historical backdrop. Then there's Mr. Saturday Night, the musical comedy version of the 1992 Billy Crystal film, starring Mr. Crystal himself.

MJ, Broadway's latest jukebox musical/bio zeroes in on a portion of Michael Jackson's life while gender-tweaked Company continues to dazzle with Tony winners Patti LuPone and Katrina Lenk. Finally, the year's most lacerating, rule-defying, essential new musical, A Strange Loop, hit Broadway in a flurry of critical accolades—and the 2019 Pulitzer Prize already gracing playwright Michael R. Jackson's award shelf.

CLASSIC BROADWAY

Certain shows defy time and trendiness, the most conspicuous being The Phantom of the Opera, a musical whose Majestic Theatre reign began in 1988, followed by the 1997 revival of Chicago. And while Tina: The Tina Turner Musical may have a shorter timeline than the other two, it represents the best of today's musical bio genre with divalicious fervor.

PERFECT SCORES

Whether it's Tony trophies, rave reviews, cult status, or all of the above, some Broadway musicals continue to sell-out long after opening night. The Book of Mormon, e.g., has been showering audiences with blasphemous hilarity for 11 years, while June 10th marks Wicked's 19th birthday, a celebration of multi-generational proportions. Hamilton, of course, is legend for being a colossal draw, while theatre-goers are so moved by Come From Away they return again and again. Stylized and haunting, both Hadestown and Moulin Rouge! continue to beguile their audiences, just as Dear Evan Hansen, with its contemporary score and compassionate storyline, ranks as a top tier Broadway must-see.

FUNNY BUSINESS

No matter how you like your laughs—understated, sophisticated, or slapstick—New York stages have you covered. Where Tracy Letts' dramady The Minutes serves up small town U.S.A. satire, black humor acolytes toss back pints in Hangmen's Irish pub. If, however, you crave non-stop farce, I recommend two shows: POTUS—an impeccably profane, off-the-White House-wall political femme fest in which the grenade pin has been pulled, allowing seven major-league comics to overstep their own boundaries; and The Play That Goes Wrong, a former Broadway hit that's now an Off-Broadway hilarity tour de force, capturing the hapless antics of an amateur theatrical troupe attempting a murder mystery while navigating serial cast, set, prop, and costume catastrophes.

FAMILY FABULOUS

If introducing a young family member to New York theatre is on your must-do list, there are a few shows you you'll want to consider...and I promise, as an adult, you'll be equally smitten! For starters, on Broadway, Disney's Aladdin and The Lion King are brilliant, kid-friendly versions (with a little grownup humor tucked in here and there) of the animated classics we grew up on. And for fans of J.K. Rowling's ever-expanding wizarding world, I'm pleased to report the next generation of Hogwarts students are not so "mischief managed" in the magically eye-popping Harry Potter and the Cursed Child.

Off-Broadway, I say why not indulge the kids—and your inner child—in off-the-wall high jinks served up by the three colorful deadpan dudes known as Blue Man Group.

EMOTIONAL IMPACT

Dramatic revivals are a really big deal this season thanks to VIP casts and the ways even vintage scripts take on new significance when viewed through a 2022 lens. A wide swath of themes—from greed

"Nostalgia your thing? Opt for the highly anticipated first revival of Funny Girl and/or Hugh Jackman's return to Broadway in The Music Man."

(American Buffalo starring Laurence Fishburne, Sam Rockwell, and Darren Criss), to power (Macbeth, showcasing Daniel Craig and Ruth Negga), to male sexuality (Take Me Out, with Jesse Williams and Jesse Tyler Ferguson)—have audiences enthralled.

And should you be looking for a once-in-a-lifetime theatrical opportunity, I urge you to check out Paula Vogel's Pulitzer-winning How I Learned to Drive with Mary Louise Parker and David Morse. Gently unraveling the same complex and disturbing relationship they portrayed Off-Broadway in 1997, the two actors embrace Vogel's memory play with piercing subtlety. Mesmerizing on all counts: humanity, aversion, and humor.

ALADDIN m

New Amsterdam Theatre, 214 W. 42nd St., 866-870-2717; aladdinthemusical.com

(2 hrs., 30 mins.) The beloved story is brought to thrilling theatrical life in this bold new musical. With just one rub of a magic lamp, Aladdin's journey sweeps you into an exotic world full of adventure, comedy and romance. It's an unforgettable Disney theatrical experience that includes all the cherished songs from the Oscar-winning score plus more written especially for Broadway.

AMERICAN BUFFALO d

Circle In The Square Theatre, 1633 Broadway, 235 W. 50th St., 212-239-6200; americanbuffalonyc.com

(2 hrs.) David Mamet's explosive classic revolves around the business of greed, crime, and three small-time hustlers. All-star cast includes Laurence Fishburne, Sam Rockwell, and Darren Criss.

BEETLEJUICE m

Marriott Marquis Theatre, 210 W. 46th St., 212-239-6200; beetlejuicebroadway.com

(2 hrs., 30 mins.) An edgy take on life and afterlife: the diabolically scruffy title ghost insinuates himself with a girl who's befriended the (deceased) former owners of her family's new home.

BIRTHDAY CANDLES d

American Airlines Theatre, 227 W. 42nd St., 212-239-6200; roundabouttheatre.org

THE BOOK OF MORMON m

Eugene O'Neill Theatre, 230 W. 49th St., 877-250-2929; bookofmormonbroadway.com

2011 Tony, Best Musical (2 hrs., 30 mins.) One of Broadway's most successful, Tony-winning (nine in 2011!) musicals comes from the hilariously irreverent minds of Trey Parker and Matt Stone—the duo behind South Park. The show follows a couple of wide-eyed Mormon missionaries whose first official assignment takes them from ringing doorbells stateside to a remote village in Uganda. Divinely profane in all the right places!

CHICAGO m

Ambassador Theatre, 219 W. 49th St., 212-239-6200; chicagothemusical.com

1997 Tony, Best Musical Revival (2 hrs., 30 mins.) Iconic Bob Fosse choreography, murder, headlines, Roxie Hart, Velma Kelly, and "all that jazz"!

COME FROM AWAY m

Schoenfeld Theatre, 236 W. 45th St.,
212-239-6200; comefromaway.com

100 mins., no intermission) On Sept. 11, 2001, 38 planes were ordered to land in the remote town of Gander, Newfoundland. What unfolded when the stranded strangers deplaned was amazing: the locals stepped up to host, leading to an extraordinary camaraderie unaffected by language barriers and clashes in culture. Based on these actual events comes one of Broadway's most unique, uplifting, and unforgettable musicals.

COMPANY m

Bernard B. Jacobs Theatre, 242 W. 45th St.,
212-239-6200; companymusical.com

(2 hrs., 35 mins.) Stephen Sondheim's groundbreaking musical has been given a gender/modern-day revamp with Tony winners Katrina Lenk and Patti LuPone.

DEAR EVAN HANSEN m

Music Box Theatre, 239 W. 45th St.,
212-239-6200; dearevanhansen.com

2017 Tony, Best Musical (2 hrs., 30 mins.) This multi-award-winning contemporary musical follows a high school kid who always felt like an invisible outsider until a tragic event thrusts him into the center of controversy and he's given the chance to be somebody else. Unique and deeply personal, the show illustrates how a little lie can change everything. No wonder it continues to strike a deeply personal chord with audiences from across the globe.

FUNNY GIRL m

August Wilson Theatre, 245 W. 52nd St.,
212-239-6200; funnygirlonbroadway.com

(2 hrs., 50 mins.) This first Broadway revival of the celebrated Fanny Brice musical bio/romcom features songs "Don't Rain On My Parade" and "People" and a new book by Harvey Fierstein.

GIRL FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY m

Belasco Theatre, 111 W. 44th St.,
212-239-6200; northcountryonbroadway.com

(2 hrs., 30 mins.) Written and directed by Conor McPherson, this ensemble musical reimagines 20 Bob Dylan songs, incorporating them into a story set in Duluth, MN, in 1934, when a group of wanderers' lives intersect at a house full of music, life, and hope.

HADESTOWN m

Walter Kerr Theatre, 219 W. 48th St.,
800-745-3000; hadestown.com

2019 Tony, Best Musical (2 hrs., 30 mins.) Two mythic love stories—Orpheus & Eurydice and the King Hades & Persephone—are the basis of this unique musical blending American folk music with New Orleans-inspired jazz.

HAMILTON m

Richard Rodgers Theatre, 226 W. 46th St.,
877-250-2929; hamiltonbroadway.com

2016 Tony, Best Musical (2 hrs., 55 mins.) Broadway's mega-hit explores the bastard orphan/war hero/Treasury head/founding father through a tale of America alongside Washington, Jefferson, Eliza Hamilton, and Aaron Burr.

TINA: THE TINA TURNER MUSICAL

Lunt-Fontanne Theatre, 205 W. 46th St.,
212-239-6200; TinaOnBroadway.com

(2 hrs., 45 mins.) The electrifying musical celebrating Tina Turner lights up the stage like no other. Featuring her most loved songs, the show soars as it traces Tina's trajectory from humble Tennessee beginnings to global Queen of Rock 'n' Roll. She didn't just break the rules, she rewrote them—defying the bounds of racism, sexism, and ageism to earn 12 Grammy Awards and become #1 in solo concert ticket sales. This is her story and it's a must-see!

Finding Authentic New York

MEALS WITH VIEWS

ONE Dine, the restaurant atop One World Observatory, serves in the highest dining room in the hemisphere. The philosophy in the kitchen is driven by the local and the artisanal, with specialties like Prime NY Strip Steak, Atlantic salmon, brick-pressed free-range chicken, and lamb osso bucco. You can take in both the bustle of Columbus Circle and the serenity of Central Park at Robert. Located atop of the Museum of Arts and Design, this bright, chic spot often adds to the atmosphere with live music. There are prix fixe specials for lunch; come dinner look for entrees like duck, branzino, wild mushroom risotto, and lobster tagliatelle. For an off the beaten path rooftop destination, check out Gaonnuri on the 39th floor of a nondescript Midtown office building. Fantastic vistas of the Empire State Building pair well with the Korean barbecue on the menu. You can opt to cook pork belly or other meats at your table's built-in grill, or have the kitchen prepare mains like the Hot Stone Bowl with rice. At ground level, Central Park offers a cinematic New York sight at Lakeside Restaurant at The Loeb Boathouse Central Park. "Relaxed formality" rules the day at lunch and brunch here. For the latter, you can expect French toast stuffed with blueberry mascarpone filling, eggs Benedict, and smoked fish platters sided by a bagel and garnishes.

AN ELEGANT APPROACH TO SEAFOOD

The Sea Fire Grill offers a sophisticated New York setting for the freshest in seafood. Raw bar favorites include daily East and West Coast oysters and chilled lobster; appetizers like jumbo lump crab cakes and yellowfin tuna tartare will impress. Look for seasonal fresh catches, prepared thoughtfully, like the Alaskan king crab legs and roasted Nova Scotia halibut. There are also steaks and chops to take advantage of the expertise of sibling spot Benjamin's (don't miss the surf 'n' turf combo).

CLASSIC ITALIAN

NYC boasts two Little Italys (one downtown and one in the Bronx), legendary Italian neighborhoods full of local charm in Brooklyn and Queens, and some of the world's finest takes on Italian cuisine peppered all across Manhattan. From neighborhood pasta joints to special occasion splurges, NYC's Italian restaurants are waiting with old school hospitality.

For intimate experiences, look to smaller, authentic venues in the Theater District. At La Masseria you'll find a first-rate Italian menu that blends traditional and modern. Inspirations come from the region of Puglia (the heel of Italy's "boot"), crafting simple, authentic pastas, risottos, and meat and fish dishes.

A little ways uptown, spinoff Masseria dei Vini also specializes in the cuisine of Puglia, with Neapolitan style pizza from a Ferrara wood-burning oven. Seafood and fresh homemade pastas are complemented by an extensive wine by the glass and bottle list, mainly from Italy but without ignoring the rest of the world.

Another Midtown West standout is newcomer Cucina 8½, inside a sweeping space in the architecturally stunning Solow Building. Chef John Villa serves elevated takes on rustic Italian, drawing inspiration from New York and Italian traditions, with many tableside presentations. The pastas and pizzas are all prepared in-house; join them for a weekday happy hour from 4-7pm in the bar/lounge with $7 drafts and wines plus mini martinis for just eight and a half dollars. Complementary hors d'oeuvres are served.

New York restaurants come and go, but Patsy's Italian Restaurant is forever. The famed eatery—which only has one location, right in the heart of midtown—has been around for nearly 80 years and is only getting better. Chef Sal Scognamillo, owner and operator, is the third generation of Scognamillos to sit at the helm. The family recipes have remained largely unchanged. Dishes like stuffed artichokes, eggplant parmigiana, and spaghetti and meatballs are as rich and flavorful as ever. Ingredients are sourced from long-standing family business connections, ensuring every bite remains true to tradition.

To get a feel for the New York of over a century ago, head downtown to Little Italy. Narrow sidewalks front a seemingly endless collection of Italian restaurants. When you're ready for a sweet ending to your Little Italy adventures, Caffé Palermo is your destination. Here since 1973, this must-stop downtown legend is hosted by Baby John, The Cannoli King. His cannolis keep to that perfect balance between sweet cream and satisfying crunch, making these the best in the city. You'll also find the finest Italian pastries: cheesecake, tiramisu, Italian cookies, lobster tails, and unbeatable cappuccino and espresso.

For a memorable meal, it's hard to beat the classic experience of a New York steakhouse. The city offers a world-class array of prime spots for prime beef, served up with the sophistication that only Manhattan can offer.

The staff at Benjamin Steakhouse is courteous, accommodating, and knowledgeable of a menu that includes everyone's favorites—and not just meat. Seafood items include Chilean sea bass, Norwegian salmon, yellowfin tuna, and lobster. Sirloin, filet mignon, lamb, and veal chops are all dry-aged in their own aging box. Sumptuous desserts provide the perfect finish. (The 2019 Concierge Choice Awards winner for Best Restaurant Experience is Benjamin Steakhouse's nearby spin-off Benjamin Prime. The grill gets the spotlight here, turning out USDA prime dry-aged steaks and succulent seafood in unique ways.)

The Palm Restaurant is a dining tradition that has been handed down for generations. Look for fan favorite lobster, Italian specialties, and, of course, stellar steaks. A fixture in the Theater District near the Gershwin Theater since 1999, The Palm Midtown is a natural dining destination before or after a show. A second location, The Palm Tribeca, is just steps away from the Financial District, the Hudson River, and Battery Park.

Strip House Downtown serves creative cuisine in a burlesque-inspired atmosphere with service that befits a high-end steakhouse experience. Signature selections include sizzling cuts of prime beef, fresh seafood, and decadent desserts. Seating is also available in the attached Speakeasy for those who prefer a more intimate dinner and cocktail experience. Strip

House Midtown offers a roomy bi-level space near Bryant Park for lunch, dinner, and private dining. The interior is siren-red and accented with vintage black and white photography, but the star of the show is the namesake New York strip.

Del Frisco's Double Eagle Steakhouse features floor-to-ceiling windows with breathtaking views of Sixth Avenue and nearby Rockefeller Center. Make it a night to remember with chef-driven cuisine, world-class wines, and unparalleled hospitality.

Morton's The Steakhouse is famous for USDA prime-aged beef, fresh seafood, fine wine, and elegant desserts. The experience blends classic and contemporary, with an innovative cocktail culture that fuels a bustling bar scene. There are two NYC locations, Midtown West and downtown near the 9/11 Memorial.

Welcome to the world capital of nightlife: the city that never sleeps. Intimate jazz spots share blocks with legendary comedy clubs all across the city.

If you're looking for a neighborhoody pint you'll find plenty of options in midtown; for a more raucous scene check out the profusion of vibrant bars in the East Village and the Lower East Side. (On the Brooklyn side, the possibilities in Williamsburg are every bit as endless.) Upscale options can be found along the cobblestone streets of the Meatpacking District while the West Village next door is joined by Chelsea and Hell's Kitchen as a historic hub of LGBTQ nightlife. Music, performance, dance, people watching—whatever your mood, NYC can match it.

Near Times Square, you can rock your senses with tantalizing food and drinks and an awe-inspiring music memorabilia collection at New York's Hard Rock Cafe. Priceless pieces from legends like The Beatles, Led Zeppelin, Nirvana, and Elvis Presley grace the cafe walls. Legendary steak burgers are house specialties, joined by favorite entrees like baby back ribs, grilled Norwegian salmon, and New York strip steak. Friday nights bring live DJs and Sundays are great for brunch, complete with bottomless mimosas.

Downtown has an ample supply of spots for a modern cocktail. The Bar Room at Tom include the Music Hall of Williamsburg, Brooklyn Steel, and Brooklyn Bowl (yes, you can pick up the elusive 7-10 split while the band is playing).

City Winery New York City at Hudson River Park combines great bites, wine to match, and views to remember. Close to Chelsea Market and The High Line, you can also take in excellent sightlines on the city's newest park, Little Island. Enjoy brunch, lunch, or dinner, where the food is meant to be paired with a great glass of wine. Two stages host a stellar array of music and comedy. On Sundays, don't miss the Strawberry Fields: Ultimate Beatles Brunch.

For more than 25 years, The Iridium near Times Square has served up an eclectic mix of rock, jazz, blues, and beyond. Order dinner and you'll eat well here, despite the high caliber of the entertainment—for mains find pasta, burgers, short ribs, salads, and that New York favorite, the Reuben.

The East Village has its own destination for eclectic, compelling music in Drom. Programming varies from jazz, rock, electronic, soul, and funk to international music. Look for high-energy ensemble work from The Silver Arrow Band (May 24th and June 7th, and June 21st) and DJ TM.8's Temptation Saturday 80's Dance Party (May 28th and June 11th and 18th).

Legends like Jerry Seinfeld and David Chappelle have been known to drop in on this upscale, intimate setting in Chelsea. There are touring pros and ensemble nights like The Gotham All-Stars and ComedyJuice. Another comedy legend not to be missed is Carolines on Broadway. This Times Square institution has been presenting the best in live comedy since 1982, from established greats to stars of the future in the Breakout Artist Comedy Series. You can dine during the performance in the showroom or have a pre-show bite in the Supper Lounge, where they'll hold complimentary VIP show seating for you.

Colicchio's

Temple Court is located beneath The Beekman's stunning, nine-story Victorian era hotel atrium and provides a singular New York setting for savoring a handcrafted cocktail.

If you're out and about in midtown, consider Pebble Bar, a Rockefeller Center newcomer. Housed in a historic townhouse, it hosts a dining and drinking scene that features seafood towers, bar snacks, and timeless cocktails.

For a touch of the tropics in the middle of the concrete jungle, Margaritaville New York is the destination for you. While looking out over Times Square, you'll be transported to a vacation state of mind with one bite of a Cheeseburger in Paradise or a signature margarita.

The stage of Harlem's legendary Apollo Theater is once again filled with music and spoken word—don't miss the world-famous Amateur Night at the Apollo.

NYC attracts a slew of big-name performers, with famous acts hitting arenas like Madison Square Garden and Brooklyn's Barclays Center.

For more intimate musical experiences, look to the city's clubs. Indie rock venues are peppered around downtown; The Bowery Ballroom and The Mercury Lounge are two long-running favorites. Brooklyn's answers for live music

nyc transportation fun facts

- A New York City taxi makes almost 800 trips a month.
- If you laid out NYC's subway tracks end to end you'd reach Chicago.
- NYC Transit buses give 678 million rides every year.
- The subway fleet travels 365 million miles a year.
- No surprise here: the Times Square-42nd Street subway station is the city's busiest. It's the gateway to 65 million rides a year.
- Need an alibi? MetroCard swipes are tracked and have been used in criminal defenses.
- Every wonder why city buses don't take paper money? NYC Transit uses giant vacuums to empty fareboxes, which would turn that cash into confetti.
- By law, there are exactly 13,587 taxis in NYC. But good luck finding even one when it rains.

VAX & MASKS

On March 7th, 2022, Mayor Eric Adams ended city guidance that asked for vaccine proofs and mask wearing for indoor activities. Individual places may still request mask and/or vax proof, but many have relaxed all requirements for entry. Public transportation as of press time still requires masks. Broadway is requiring masks for all audiences inside the theatre, except while eating or drinking in designated locations, at least through May 31st; many theatres will no longer require proof of vaccination.
